

Roberto Mugavero

Degree in Environmental Engineering, Director and Professor at the “Centre for Security Studies” - CUFS, Director and Professor at the Second Level Master Degree “International Security Studies”, Professor of “Environmental Risk Management” - Degree Course in Civil and Environmental Engineering/IASA, Member of the Academic Senate - University of the Republic of San Marino.

Professor of "Action Planning for Homeland Security" - Degree Course in Energy Engineering, Scientific Director and Professor at the Second Level Master Degree “Electronic Systems and Technologies for Security, Defence and Intelligence”, Head of the Research Area “Security” at the Department of Electronic Engineering - University of Rome "Tor Vergata" - Italy.

Professor of “Intelligence Analysis” at the Second Level Master Degree “Forensic Sciences” - University of Rome “Sapienza” - Italy. Professor of “Systems and Technologies for Security” at the First Level Master Degree “Urban Manager for Security, Safety and Violence Management” - University of Padova - Italy.

Faculty Member and Lecturer at the Fellowship in “Disaster Medicine” - Medical School - Harvard University - USA.

Lecturer at the NATO School - Oberammergau - Germany. Visiting Scholar at the Flinders University - Torrens Resilience Institute - Australia.

Supervisor and Assistant Supervisor of more than 110 Master Thesis. Lecturer in many national and international public/university Courses and Masters in the Security and Defence sectors. President of the “Observatory on Security and CBRNe Defence” - Italy.

Chairman and Speaker in national and international Conferences, Workshops and Seminars in the fields of Security, Defence, Intelligence, Terrorism/Crime Prevention, Territorial Risk, Chemical-Biological-Radiological/Nuclear and explosive (CBRNe) Risk, Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMD) Counter-proliferation, Emergency and Risk Management. Scientific Director and lecturer in more than 120 national and international Advanced Training Courses.

Expert of the “CBRN Centres of Excellence” programme promoted by the European Union in cooperation with the United Nations Interregional Crime and Justice Research Institute - UNICRI.

CBRNe Defence Expert and Member, as " CBRN Coordination Expert ", of the European Civil Protection Task Force.

Expert in charge for evaluation of projects at the European Commission - Research Executive Agency.

Volunteer Firefighter Technical Officer at the Italian National Fire Brigade.

President Emeritus of the Italian National Association of Volunteer Firefighters. Project Manager and Expert in many Security & Defence national and international projects.

He collaborates with various Security and Defence organizations, associations, magazines and research institutes. Author of more than 120 papers/articles/technical and scientific publications in magazines, newspapers, books and presentations at national and international conferences and working groups.

Editor and Co-author of books on Security and Defence.

Holder of international Patents relating to the field of electronic systems and technologies.

He was part of many international exercises, operations and emergency activities.